Olympia - Newsletter*

Sept 9, 2009

Summer's over: Where did summer 2009 go? I don't know about you, but it passed by entirely too quickly. I am ready to get my paints out and start a new project.

The IPAT magazine arrived today with lots of ideas for painting. Plans are already coming together for the IPAT Biennial Convention, August 18 – 21, 2010, Irving, Texas. It is scheduled after the WA State WOCF Convention scheduled in Olympia. April 21 – 24, 2010. Look for the flyer posted on our Web site. The theme of the show is April Porcelain in Paris.

Spokane is hosting Paula and Marilyn this month for a workshop titled "Bits and Pieces". This is the 3rd of 6 workshops being scheduled throughout the State. Those attending will be creating a scene using the bits and pieces study. We are assign everyone to bring their painted scenes to the State show next April. More information will be available about the competition.

Seminar Oct. 1, 2, & 3, is scheduled with Gisela Bylund teaching hydrangia's painted on an 8" box. The class may have space for one or two. If you are interested, please contact Marilyn 360 754 0505 asap.

Montana Show Sept. 2009: Joe, Marilyn and Paula will be attending the Montana show next week. They will be promoting the WA show being scheduled April of next year.

Fall classes: Marilyn is gradually putting together a few painting classes. The Monday day class may start again in Oct. Marilyn will get a notice out to those attending the Monday when she returns from Montana. The Thurs. night class has met a few times, and will be on a more regular schedule in October.

Hope everyone has had a great summer and will be ready to volunteer and work on Show projects. There are lots to do and lots to paint. Paula and Marilyn will be contacting you soon to let everyone know what needs to be done. Our next PPO meeting is the last Tuesday in October.
